History Painting Religious, historical or allegorical work, with a moral message. 2. Portrait Art Includes individual, group or self-portraits. 3. Genre Painting Scenes of everyday life. 4. Landscape Painting Paintings whose principal content is a scenic view. 5. Still Life Painting An arrangement of domestic objects or everyday items. Still life is a painting of inanimate objects, such as a bowl of fruit etc. Portrait is a headshot of someone's head and shoulders, or their entire body. The point is that the object of focus is someone, not something. Landscape is a painting of, well, a landscape. Cottages, mountains, fields, etc. Genre in the Visual Arts: Portraits, Pears, and Perfect Landscapes Still Life, portrait, and landscape are all categories, or genres, of painting which your students have probably seen examples of on their trips to the museum or when looking through an art book. In the first ever collaboration between these institutions, each exhibition focused on a different genre traditionally associated with painting: landscape, portrait, and still life (respectively). In each, Dean mixed new and existing works with pieces from the collection or other artists.
